

Language and Cognition

An Interdisciplinary Journal of Language and Cognitive Science

Contents

Volume 1 – Issue 1 (2009)

How infants build a semantic system
Kim Plunkett

The cognitive poetics of literary resonance
Peter Stockwell

Action in cognition: The case of language
Lawrence J. Taylor and Rolf A. Zwaan

Prototype constructions in early language development
Paul Ibbotson and Michael Tomasello

The Enactment of Language: 20 Years of Interactions Between Linguistic and Motor Processes
Michael Spivey and Sarah Anderson

Episodic affordances contribute to language comprehension
Arthur M. Glenberg, Raymond Becker, Susann Klötzer,
Lidia Kolanko, Silvana Müller, and Mike Rinck

Reviews

Daniel D. Hutto. 2008. *Folk Psychological Narratives:
The Sociocultural Basis of Understanding Reasons.*
Reviewed by Chris Sinha

Aniruddh Patel. 2008. Music, Language, and the Brain.
Reviewed by Daniel Casasanto

Volume 1 – Issue 2 (2009)

Pronunciation reflects syntactic probabilities: Evidence from spontaneous speech
Harry Tily, Susanne Gahl, Inbal Arnon, Anubha Kothari, Neal Snider and Joan Bresnan

Causal agents in English, Korean and Chinese: The role of internal and external causation
Phillip Wolff, Ga-hyun Jeon, and Yu Li

Ontology as correlations: How language and perception interact to create knowledge
Linda Smith and Eliana Colunga

Toward a theory of word meaning
Gabriella Vigliocco, Lotte Meteyard and Mark Andrews

Spatial language in the brain
Mikkel Wallentin

The neural basis of semantic memory: Insights from neuroimaging
Uta Noppeney

Reviews

Ronald Langacker. 2008. Cognitive Grammar: A Basic Introduction.
Reviewed by Vyvyan Evans

Giacomo Rizzolatti and Corrado Sinigaglia. 2008. Mirrors in the brain: How our minds share actions and emotions. Reviewed by David Kemmerer

Volume 2 – Issue 1 (2010)

Adaptive cognition without massive modularity: The context-sensitivity of language use
Raymond W. Gibbs and Guy Van Orden

Spatial foundations of the conceptual system
Jean Mandler

Metaphor: Old words, new concepts, imagined worlds
Robyn Carston

Language Development and Linguistic Relativity
John A. Lucy

Construction Learning
Adele Goldberg

Space and Language: some neural considerations
Anjan Chatterjee

Volume 2 – Issue 2 (2010)

What can language tell us about psychotic thought?
Gina Kuperberg

Abstract motion is no longer abstract
Teenie Matlock

When gesture does and doesn't promote learning
Susan Goldin-Meadow

Discourse Space Theory
Paul Chilton

Relational language supports relational cognition
Dedre Gentner

Talking about quantities in space
Kenny Coventry