CONTENTS

Figures ix

Acknowledgments xi

Introduction:
Imagining a Dominion over Palm and Pine 3

1 “Possessing a Great South as Well as a Great West,” 1869–1885 16

2 Visions of Centurial Grandeur, 1898–1914 53

3 Sovereignty and the Spoils of War 92

4 A “New American Empire Headed by Canada”:
Interwar Overtures 129

5 A Shifting Global Order:
Anxieties and Opportunities, 1945–1966 163

6 Decolonization and Denial:
The Persistence of the Union Dream, 1967–1974 195

Conclusion: A Dream Unfulfilled 231

Notes 239

Bibliography 303

Index 333