Contents

List of Tables vii
List of Figures xi
Acknowledgments xiii

Prologue 3
1 Statistics as Culture: The Origins of Ontario Civil Registration 17
2 The Evolution of Ontario Civil Registration, 1869–1950 31
3 Death in Ingersoll, 1880–1972: A Case-Study Approach to the Revision of Defective Mortality Statistics WITH KEVIN MCQUILLAN 50
4 The Completeness of Birth Registrations, 1900–60 72
5 Getting Born: How Definition Influenced Statistics for Infant Deaths and Stillbirths, 1926–51 98
Conclusion 155
APPENDICES

A Ontario-Quebec Differences in the Application of Canada's 1932 Statistical Definitions for Live Birth and Stillbirth: Discussion of the Evidence 165

B Ontario Death-Certificate Forms 167

C Definitions of Selected Medical Terms 169

D Rules for Choice of Causes of Death in the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, 1933 170

E Problems Encountered in Linking Death Registrations to Published Statistics 180

F The Evidence of Residence Classification Practices in Vital Statistics, 1930-36 184

G Hospital Beds and Reallocations for Residence: Ontario in the 1930s 186

Notes 193

References 223

Index 239