SAMIR AMIN  Director, The Third World Forum, Dakar, Senegal. A leading political economist and a world-renowned Neo-Marxian thinker, he cofounded The World Forum for Alternatives, created in 1997 to service the needs of social movements engaged in the globalization discourse. In his volume, Obsolescent Capitalism: Contemporary Politics and Global Disorder, this foremost thinker on the changing dynamic of capitalism discusses how the U.S. economic preponderance is determining the future of capitalistic development.

GREGORY BAUM  Professor Emeritus, Theological Ethics and Sociology of Religion, McGill University, Montreal. An officer of the Order of Canada, Professor Baum is editor of The Ecumenist and a member of the editorial board of Rélations, a francophone Catholic monthly published in Quebec. A leading contemporary theologian and an important contributor to the understanding of religion and spirituality in the context of modern human experiences, he is presently a faculty lecturer in ethics at McGill University.

LLOYD BEST  Director, The Trinidad and Tobago Institute of the West Indies, St Augustine, Trinidad. A well-respected thinker in the Caribbean and internationally on social and political issues, he is the founder of the New World Quarterly and publisher of Trinidad and Tobago Review. He received the Order of the Caribbean Community in July 2002.
DUNCAN CAMERON  Associate Professor, Department of Political Science, University of Ottawa, Ottawa. Former president, Canadian Centre for Policy Alternatives, Professor Cameron has written extensively on North American free trade, national and international political economy, and ethics and economics.

URSULA FRANKLIN  Professor Emerita, Department of Materials Science Engineering, and Senior Resident and Fellow, Massey College, University of Toronto, Toronto. Professor Franklin, feminist, Quaker, and peace activist, has made an outstanding contribution to our understanding of the human dimensions of science and technology and to peaceful co-existence. She was instrumental in organizing the Voice of Women, one of Canada’s first feminist organizations and is an advocate of the international Science for Peace organization. Professor Franklin is a companion of the Order of Canada and fellow of the Royal Society of Canada.

NORMAN GIRVAN  Professorial Research Fellow, Institute of International Relations, University of West Indies, St Augustine, Trinidad, and secretary general of the Association of Caribbean States (2001–04). A professor of development studies, he is well known in the Caribbean for his work on Caribbean development and integration.

DENIS GOULET  Professor Emeritus of Economics, University of Notre Dame, Indiana. Professor Goulet is a pioneer in the interdisciplinary study of development ethics. He is presently William and Dorothy O’Neal Chair in Education for Justice, Department of Economics, Faculty Fellow, Kellogg Institute for International Studies, and Faculty Fellow, Joan B. Kroc Institute for International Peace Studies, University of Notre Dame, Indiana.

KARI POLANYI LEVITT  Professor Emerita of Economics, McGill University, Montreal. Honorary president, Karl Polanyi Institute of Political Economy, Concordia University, Montreal. A founding member of the Canadian Association for the Study of International Development (CASID), Professor Polanyi Levitt has published extensively on international and Caribbean political economy and the work of Karl Polanyi. Her seminal Silent Surrender (1970) was reprinted in 2003 with a new introduction.

MARGUERITE MENDELL  Vice-principal and Associate Professor, School of Community and Public Affairs, and Director, Karl Polanyi Institute of Political Economy, Concordia University, Montreal.
Professor Mendell has published widely on Karl Polanyi and on alternative democratically based economic development strategies in Quebec and abroad.

ARVIND SHARMA Birks Professor of Comparative Religion at McGill University, Montreal. Professor Sharma is a leading scholar on Hinduism, world religions, and issues concerning women and religion. He advocates the adoption of a Universal Declaration of Human Rights by the world’s religions.

CAROLYN SHARP Assistant Professor, Faculty of Theology, Saint Paul’s University, Ottawa, and member, Board of Directors, Saint Paul University Ethics Centre. Professor Sharp has written extensively on feminist liberation theologians.

MEL WATKINS Professor Emeritus of Economics and Political Science, University of Toronto. Professor Watkins has published extensively in the area of Canadian political economy. He is a columnist for This Magazine and for the on-line review Straight Goods. He is past president of Science for Peace (Canada), a Canadian organization concerned with peace, justice, and environmental sustainability.

MICHAEL WITTER Senior Lecturer and Head, Department of Economics, University of the West Indies, Mona Campus, Kingston, Jamaica. Professor Witter has served as consultant for several international organizations, private Jamaican and international companies as well as the governments of Jamaica and Belize.