Contents

Preface by Jean-Claude Marsan ix
Foreword by Stephen A. Jarislowsky xi
Acknowledgments xiii
Dramatis Personae xv
Illustrations xvii

INTRODUCTION
1 Synopsis: The Cult of Giantism 3
2 Language: Quebec’s Necessary Obsession 31
3 Westmount Then and Now 54

THE STORY
4 Political Eunuchs and Fiscal Footmen (1663–1993) 85
6 Merger Plans, the MUC, and a Metropolitan Miscarriage (1996) 134
7 A Quebec Divided: Partition and Downloading (1997) 157
8 The Seduction of Simplicity: Turn the MUC into a City (1998) 181
9 Montreal’s Disease: Suburban Parasites or Chronic Maladministration? (1999) 204
Contents

11 Walking into a Trap (2000) 264
13 If You Can’t Ride Two Horses, You Shouldn’t Be in the Circus (2001) 322
14 Forced to Play the Language Card (2001) 349
15 A Fight to the Finish (2001) 374
18 Rebirth for Some, Complexity for All (2004–2009) 449
19 Scandals, a Swollen Payroll, and an Uncelebrated Tenth Birthday (2009–2011) 473

Conclusion: Making Good: Rebuilding Montreal’s Local and Regional Government 496

Appendix: The Montreal Megacity by Numbers: Performance versus Promise 522

Notes 539
Bibliography 639
Index 649