Acknowledgments

In researching and writing this book, I relied on the help and generosity of many people. I am indebted to all the single women who participated in my study—who made time on weekends and after work to meet me, answered my questions with openness and humor, introduced me to their friends, and trusted me to take good care of their stories. This book is dedicated to them.

I thank Gordon Mathews, Keith L. Brown, Zachary M. Howlett, and two anonymous reviewers at University of Hawai‘i Press for reading the entire manuscript and providing detailed and useful comments. For advice on various portions of this book and help on the research behind it, I am grateful to Candy Lam, Lin Sun, Yajun Wang, Mena Wong, Alana Wong, Wan Fong, Kitty Choi, Timothy Choi, Moeko Wagatsuma, Kinnia Yau, Colin Smith, Peter Skehan, Jan Wang, Mingchang Wang, Maggie Lin, Akiyo Oshima, William Kelly, Eyal Ben-Ari, Glenda Roberts, Satsuki Kawano, Junko Otani, Richard Ronald, Yoshihide Sakurai, Yasemin Soysal, Suk-ying Wong, Hyunjoon Park, Yin Wang, and Laura Dales. I am grateful to Snowy Lai for her encouragement and friendship.

I appreciate the comments and questions I received from audience members at the University of Pennsylvania, University of Hawai‘i, University of Pittsburgh, Osaka University, Hokkaido University, Tokyo Metropolitan University, University of Western Australia, National Cheng Kung University, the Chinese University of Hong Kong, and City University of Hong Kong, and at meetings of the American Anthropological Association, the Association for Asian Studies, Japan Anthropology Workshop, International Convention of Asian Scholars, New Zealand Asian Studies Society, East Asian Anthropological Association, European Association of Japanese Studies, the Japan-China Sociological Society, and the Hong Kong Anthropological Society.

Major portions of the work described in this book were supported by a grant from the Research Grants Council of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region, China (Project No. CUHK4018/02H). I am grateful to the Faculty of Arts at the Chinese University of Hong Kong for providing financial support in the form of the Publication Subvention Fund 2021, which assists faculty members in publishing scholarly monographs in international venues.

I appreciate the assistance I received from my colleagues in the Department of Japanese Studies, the Chinese University of Hong Kong, especially Benjamin Wai-Ming Ng, and from the research assistants who have helped me to collect statistical data over the years. I thank my family and friends for tolerating my long hours of sitting inert in front of my computer. Lastly, I thank Eric Cheng, who has seen me through this long process. His sense of humor and joyful way of looking at the world has provided welcome diversion for which I am extremely grateful.
