LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

1.1 Michael Haneke. 16
2.1 Der Siebente Kontinent (1989): For Anna (Birgit Doll) and George (Dieter Berner) existence is reduced to a series of daily rituals. 58
2.2 Gabriel Cosmin Urdes as a homeless Romanian boy in 71 Fragmente einer Chronologie des Zufalls (1994). The film’s fragmentary narrative cuts off the characters it contains, preventing them from communicating with others. 70
3.1 The opening scenes of Funny Games (1997) see the Schöber family (Stefan Clapczynski, Ulrich Mühe, Susanne Lothar) come under threat from two anonymous intruders (Frank Giering and Arno Frisch). 83
3.2 Paul (Arno Frisch) holds Georgie (Stefan Clapczynski) hostage on the sofa in Funny Games. 100
4.2 La Pianiste (2001): Erika (Isabelle Huppert) and Walter (Benoît Magimel) wrestle for sexual control in the bathrooms of the Vienna Conservatory. 136
4.3 Apocalyptic imagery in Le Temps du loup (2003). 142
5.1 Juliette Binoche and Daniel Auteuil in the Laurents’ study in Caché (2005). The diegetic screen dominates the backdrop. 161
5.2 Images of the past haunt the present in Caché. 182
C.2 Naomi Watts and Tim Roth as Ann and George Farber in Funny Games U.S. The film’s casting belies easy readings of the film as ‘mainstream’ product. 193