Contents

List of Illustrations ix
Acknowledgments x
Foreword xi

E.N. Anderson

Environmental Anthropology Engaging Ecotopia: An Introduction 1
Joshua Lockyer and James R. Veteto

I. Bioregionalism

Chapter One. Growing a Life-Place Politics 35
Peter Berg

Chapter Two. On Bioregionalism and Watershed Consciousness 49
James J. Parsons

Chapter Three. Growing an Oak: An Ethnography of Ozark Bioregionalism 58
Brian C. Campbell

Chapter Four. The Adirondack Semester: An Integrated Approach to Cultivating Bioregional Knowledge and Consciousness 76
Steven M. Alexander and Baylor Johnson

Further Readings on Bioregionalism 92

II. Permaculture

Chapter Five. Environmental Anthropology Engaging Permaculture: Moving Theory and Practice Toward Sustainability 95
James R. Veteto and Joshua Lockyer

Chapter Six. Weeds or Wisdom? Permaculture in the Eye of the Beholder on Latvian Eco-Health Farms 113
Guntra A. Aistara
Chapter Seven. Permaculture in the City: Ecological Habitus and the Distributed Ecovillage 130
Randolph Haluza-DeLay and Ron Berezan

Chapter Eight. Culture, Permaculture, and Experimental Anthropology in the Houston Foodshed 146
Bob Randall

Chapter Nine. Putting Permaculture Ethics to Work: Commons Thinking, Progress, and Hope 164
Katy Fox

Chapter Ten. Permaculture in Practice: Low Impact Development in Britain 180
Jenny Pickerill

Chapter Eleven. In Search of Global Sustainability and Justice: How Permaculture Can Contribute to Development Policy 195
Aili Pyhälä

Further Readings on Permaculture 213

III. Ecovillages

Chapter Twelve. From Islands to Networks: The History and Future of the Ecovillage Movement 217
Jonathan Dawson

Chapter Thirteen. Creating Alternative Political Ecologies through the Construction of Ecovillages and Ecovillagers in Colombia 235
Brian J. Burke and Beatriz Arjona

Chapter Fourteen. Globalizing the Ecovillage Ideal: Networks of Empowerment, Seeds of Hope 251
Todd LeVasseur

Chapter Fifteen. Academia’s Hidden Curriculum and Ecovillages as Campuses for Sustainability Education 269
Daniel Greenberg

Chapter Sixteen. Ecovillages and Capitalism: Creating Sustainable Communities within an Unsustainable Context 285
Ted Baker

Further Readings on Ecovillages 301

Notes on Contributors 303

Index 308