Contents

PREFACE vii

INTRODUCTION 3

PART ONE: THE GENESIS OF THE PERSILES
ROMANCES OF CHIVALRY AND THE CLASSICAL AESTHETIC

CHAPTER I.
The Critique and Purification of the Romance of Chivalry 11
The Moralistic Critique of the Romance of Chivalry 13
The Aesthetic Critique of the Romance of Chivalry 20
Tasso and the Aesthetic Purification of the Romance 27
Conclusion 43
A Note on the Empirical Orientation of Renaissance Interpretations of Mimesis 45

CHAPTER II.
Heliodorus and Literary Theory 49
Pierre-Daniel Huet 51
Amyot 55
Scaliger 64
Tasso 66
El Pinciano 68
Conclusion 85

PART TWO: CERVANTES AND THE CLASSICAL AESTHETIC
DON QUIXOTE

CHAPTER III.
The Dialogue Between the Canon and Don Quixote 91
The Canon’s Critique of the Romances 92
The Legitimate Marvelous and the Ideal Romance 95
A Comic Interlude: the Critical Response to Classicism 104
Don Quixote’s Defense of the Romances 107
Conclusion 124

CHAPTER IV.
The Narrator and His Audience: The Liberation of the Imagination 131
The Narrating Author vs. the Critical Audience 132
The Cave of Montesinos 137

ix
Contents

Master Pedro's Puppet Show 146
Clavileño and the Braying Ass 152
Cide Hamete Benengeli 155

PART THREE: CERVANTES AND THE CLASSICAL AESTHETIC

PERSILES Y SIGISMUNDA

CHAPTER V.
The Critical Examination of Literary Theory in the Persiles 169
Literary Theory as a Theme of the Persiles 169
The Interlude of the Counterfeit Captives 170

CHAPTER VI.
Periandro's Narration 187
The Hero as Poet 187
The Fishermen's Wedding: the Problem of Unity 195

CHAPTER VII.
Topics of the Marvelous 212
The Garden Paradise 212
The Marvelous Horse 245

CHAPTER VIII.
The Narrator of the Persiles 257
Ambivalence Concerning the Range of Permissible
Commentary 258
Literary Ambivalence in the Discursive Narrator 270
Conclusion 298

PART FOUR: THE CERVANTINE FIGURE OF THE POET
IMPOSTOR OR GOD?

CHAPTER IX.
The Cervantine Figure of the Poet: Impostor or God? 305
The Poet as an Outsider: La Gitanilla 306
The Triumph of Proteus: Pedro de Urdemalas 319

CONCLUSION.
Classicism, Truth, and the Novel 339

BIBLIOGRAPHY 349
INDEX 361