Figures

1.1 Mural at the Cinemateca Uruguaya, in Montevideo 2
1.2 A scene from The Other 5
1.3 Lucrecia Martel with Daniel Giménez Cacho and Matheus Nachtergaele during the filming of Zama 11
2.1 The Swamp 21
2.2 The Swamp 23
2.3 The Swamp 33
2.4 The Swamp 39
4.1 Fish brings to the forefront voices that are skilfully blurred and unclear 48
4.2 New Argríopolis emphasises voices that subvert the relationship between image and sound 53
5.1 In Muta, the bodies abandon their garments to fly 72
6.1 Dead King: shooting at the oppressive patriarchal gaze 81
6.2 New Argríopolis: the minoritarian politics of the Wichí language undoes neoliberal narration 84
6.3 Fish: a pure lack of motivation 87
7.1 The Holy Girl 91
7.2 The Holy Girl 95
9.1 The Headless Woman 113
9.2 The Headless Woman 117
10.1 Zama discusses his transfer with the Governor 126
10.2 Vero in the hospital after the accident, in The Headless Woman 132
11.1 New Argríopolis 143
11.2 Leagues 147
12.1 During the filming of Zama 162
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>FIGURES</th>
<th></th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>13.1</td>
<td>Zama and Parilla’s band of men trek through the Chaco wetlands</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>13.2</td>
<td>Zama stands on the river bank, waiting for a ship to arrive</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14.1</td>
<td>The Swamp</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14.2</td>
<td>The Holy Girl</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>