Throughout this book, the names of most of my friends and informants have been disguised to protect their identities. Only the names of the following public figures have been included: Eset Emet, Perhat Tursun, and Tahir Hamut. I mention these names in relation to interviews I conducted with them regarding their publicly available work. The names of state officials have also been given in relation to their freely available publications.