Acknowledgements

This book was written as part of my Habilitation at the University of Mannheim. First and foremost, I would like to acknowledge the financial support provided by a gender-equality initiative called the WOVEN-Programme at the University of Mannheim, and to thank Prof. Dr. Rosemarie Tracy for hosting my postdoctoral position at the Chair of English Linguistics, Anglistik I. I acknowledge with gratitude the funding of the project “Determinants of sociolinguistic variation in ESL/EFL English” (DA 1678/1-1) provided by the Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft (DFG). Moreover, the work presented here would not have been possible without the financial support of the Landesexzellenzcluster (Hamburg, Germany), which sponsored the fieldwork trip to Jawaharlal Nehru University in 2011. I also thank the Collaborative Research Centre on Multilingualism (SFB 538 “Mehrsprachigkeit”) and Prof. Dr. Peter Siemund for sponsoring the fieldwork trip to Jawaharlal Nehru University in 2007.

I would like to thank Prof. Dr. Pramod Pandey and Prof. Dr. Tatiana Oranskaia for their invaluable help in organising my two fieldwork trips to Jawaharlal Nehru University. I also thank all the students from Jawaharlal Nehru University and the University of Mannheim for the time they have taken to participate in this project.

Many thanks to my (senior) colleagues and mentors: Prof. Dr. Isabelle Buchstaller, Prof. Dr. Erik Schleef, Prof. Dr. Carola Trips, and Dr. Agniezska Ewa Tytus for their continued support throughout the project.

Finally, I would like to thank my two wonderful singing teachers, Marina Ivanova and Beate Mewes, my friends from the Venice Beach sports studio, and from the CreaDom dancing school, as well as my Facebook-gang for helping me achieve the necessary work-life balance. Most of all, however, I would like to thank my friends and family in Bryansk for their unconditional love. Theirs are the shoulders I am standing on.