Notes on Language

Japanese words are written in Hepburn romanization. Japanese names are given in the traditional Japanese style of family name first and given name second.

All names of interlocutors are pseudonyms except where permission was granted to the author or where similar information is elsewhere published. Any instances of names resembling actual individuals are coincidental.
Administering Affect