CONTENTS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>List of Illustrations</th>
<th>vii</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Editors' Preface</td>
<td>ix</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>List of Abbreviations</td>
<td>xi</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Christianity and War in Medieval East Central Europe and Scandinavia: An Introduction
RADOSŁAW KOTECKI, CARSTEN SELCH JENSEN, and STEPHEN BENNETT
. . . . 1

---

PART ONE: THE CHURCH AND WAR

Chapter 1. The Role of the Dalmatian Bishops and Archbishops in Warfare During the Twelfth and Thirteenth Centuries: A Case Study on the Archbishops of Split

JUDIT GÁL
. . . . 25

Chapter 2. Thirteenth-Century Hungarian Prelates at War

GÁBOR BARABÁS
. . . . 39

Chapter 3. The Image of “Warrior-Bishops” in the Northern Tradition of the Crusades

SINI KANGAS
. . . . 57

Chapter 4. Memory of the “Warrior-Bishops” of Płock in the Writings of Jan Długosz

JACEK MACIEJEWSKI
. . . . 75

Chapter 5. Preachers of War: Dominican Friars as Promoters of the Crusades in the Baltic Region in the Thirteenth Century

JOHNNY GRANDJEAN GÓGSIG JAKOBSEN
. . . . 97
Chapter 6. Depictions of Violence in Late Romanesque Mural Paintings in Denmark

MARTIN WANGSGAARD JÜRGENSEN. .................................................. 117

PART TWO:
RELIGION IN WAR AND ITS CULTURAL EXPRESSIONS

Chapter 7. Religious Rituals of War in Medieval Hungary Under the Árpád Dynasty

DUŠAN ZUPKA ................................................................. 141

Chapter 8. Pious Rulers, Princely Clerics, and Angels of Light: “Imperial Holy War” Imagery in Twelfth-Century Poland and Rus’

RADOSŁAW KOTECKI ............................................................ 159

Chapter 9. Religion and War in Saxo Grammaticus’s Gesta Danorum: The Examples of Bishop Absalon and King Valdemar I

CARSTEN SELCH JENSEN .......................................................... 189

Chapter 10. Rhetoric of War: The Imagination of War in Medieval Written Sources (Central and Eastern Europe in the High Middle Ages)

DAVID KALHOUS and LUDMILA LUŇÁKOVÁ ............................... 207

Chapter 11. Civil War as Holy War? Polyphonic Discourses of Warfare During the Internal Struggles in Norway in the Twelfth Century

BJØRN BANDLIEN ................................................................. 227

Chapter 12. Martyrdom on the Field of Battle in Livonia During Thirteenth-Century Holy Wars and Christianization: Popular Belief and the Image of a Catholic Frontier

KRISTJAN KALJUSAAR ............................................................. 245

Chapter 13. Orthodox Responses to the Baltic Crusades

ANTI SELART .............................................................. 263

Selected Bibliography .......................................................... 279

Index .......................................................... 285