Acknowledgements

This book could not have been published without the support of numerous parties. Olga Mastianica-Stankevič, a contributor to this volume from the Lithuanian Institute of History, helped organize a panel at the August 2015 9th World Congress of the International Council for Central and East European Studies (ICCEES) in Makuhari, Japan. The following year, we arranged an international symposium entitled, “Entangled Interactions between Religions and National Identities in the Space of the Former Polish-Lithuanian Commonwealth,” held on 22–23 August 2016 at the Lithuanian Institute of History in Vilnius, Lithuania.

I would like to express my appreciation to all the contributors to this collection for their patience and collaboration. The Kitazawa Foundation, the Mitsubishi Foundation, and the Japan Society for the Promotion of Science (in particular, fund numbers 15K02939, 15H01898, and 18H00729) were indispensable in making the panel, international symposium, and other academic works possible. I am grateful to the Japan Council for Russian and East European Studies (JCREES) for financing publication, and would also like to thank the editors of Academic Studies Press for taking on this demanding work. Last but not least, I wish to thank Darius Staliūnas, who was an enormous help in realizing the project.

Yoko Aoshima