ILLUSTRATIONS

Arnau Barquer i Cerdà, The Treballadors of Girona: Evidence of the Emergence of Wage Labour in Early Modern Catalonia in the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Centuries

Figure 1.1. Diocese of Girona. Location of the parishes used in the sample. 16
Figure 1.2. Distribution of French bridegrooms by parish. 25
Figure 1.3. Distribution of treballadors by parish. 29
Graph 1.1. Distribution of occupations performed by French bridegrooms according to dispensation requests (percentages). 27
Table 1.1. Percentage of bridegrooms of French origin in the total number of marriages. 24
Table 1.2. Number and percentage of treballadors’ bridegrooms. 30
Table 1.3. Distribution of different goods for married French treballadors. 33

John Broad, The Squatter Economy of the English countryside: Building New Landless Communities in England, c. 1600–1900

Figure 2.1. The ‘economy of makeshifts’ – sources of inputs into early modern labouring households (after Glennie 1990). 48
Figure 2.2. Map of known ‘Little Londons’ in England and Wales. 59
Table 2.1. Families and land occupiers (tenants and owner-occupiers) in Lexden hundred, Essex, around 1800. 40
Table 2.2. Poverty and landlessness in Lexden hundred, Essex, c. 1800. 45
Table 2.3. Male occupations in Lexden hundred (Essex) parishes, c. 1813–20. 47
Illustrations

Richard Paping, The Rise of Landless Households in the Dutch Countryside, c. 1600–1900

Graph 3.1. Occupations of fathers of new-born children in rural Groningen and Drenthe, 1811–1900. 73
Graph 3.2. Average employment of labourers on the large Hayemaheerd farm in Zuurdijk in the period 1835–43. 77
Table 3.1. Social structure of households around 1807 in several Dutch rural regions. 68
Table 3.2. Use of land in the Groningen clay soil region, 1755–1921 (households). 69
Table 3.3. Share of rural households with or without cows around 1810 in several parts of the Netherlands. 71
Table 3.4. Parental occupation of people dying as married labourers between 1811 and 1959 in the Groningen countryside according to the Civil Registration. 83
Table 3.5. Occupations of married children of labourers dying between 1811 and 1959 in the Groningen countryside according to the Civil Registration. 85
Table 3.6. HISCLASS social positions in the marriage records of children of unskilled labourers born in the Groningen clay soil region, marrying 1811–1934. 86

Wouter Ronsijn, ‘Gaining Ground’ in Flanders after the 1840s: Access to Land and the Coping Mechanisms of Landless and Semi-Landless Households, c. 1850–1900

Figure 4.1. Landless households as a percentage of all households by municipality in Belgium, 1846 and 1895/1900. 103
Figure 4.2. Households with less than 0.5 ha of land, as a percentage of all households by municipality in Belgium, 1846 & 1895/1900. 104
Graph 4.1. Landless and semi-landless households in Flanders, as a percentage of all households, by district (rural areas), 1846 and 1895/1900. 105
Graph 4.2. Approximate change in the proportion of agricultural surface area (percentage of the cultivated area) cultivated by holdings, by size and by district (rural areas), 1846 and 1895. 109
Table 4.1. Number of holdings, households and total surface area under cultivation, by district, 1846 and 1895/1900. 107
Illustrations

Dieter Bruneel, Strategies of Survival, Landlessness and Forest Settlement in Flanders: The Forest of Houthulst in a Changing Landscape of Survival (c. 1500–1900)

Figure 5.1. The forest named Oudt Hulstbosch on the map of Flanders published by Eugenius Fricx in 1744 (Ghent University Library).

Figure 5.2. Cadastral map of the forest published by P. C. Popp in 1850–55 (Ghent University Library).

Graph 5.1. Landscape transformation as reflected in the changing acreage (in hectares) of the Forest of Houthulst (AD 1000–2000).

Henry French, Landless and Pauper Households in England, c. 1760–1835: A Comparison of Two Southern English Rural Communities

Graph 6.1. Total annual poor relief disbursements to named recipients (£1778 constant) in Terling, Essex, and Butleigh, Somerset, 1770–1834.

Graph 6.2. Total number of poor relief recipients per year in Terling, Essex and Butleigh, Somerset, 1762–1834.

Graph 6.3. Annual totals of selected occasional relief paid to female and male recipients, Terling, Essex, 1762–1834 (£1778 constant).

Graph 6.4. Annual totals of selected occasional relief paid to female and male recipients in Butleigh, Somerset, 1762–1834 (£1778 constant).

Graph 6.5. Seasonality of relief payments: proportion of total annual irregular relief payments made in autumn–winter (Q4 + Q1) to female recipients of different ages in Butleigh, Somerset and Terling, Essex, 1762–1834.

Graph 6.6. Seasonality of relief payments: proportion of total annual irregular relief payments made in autumn–winter (Q4 + Q1) to male recipients of different ages in Butleigh, Somerset and Terling, Essex, 1762–1834.

Graph 6.7. Mean percentage of weeks per quarter in autumn and winter (Q4 + Q1) in which irregular relief was received by female recipients of different age categories, Terling, Essex, and Butleigh, Somerset, 1762–1834.
Illustrations

Graph 6.8. Mean percentage of weeks per quarter in autumn and winter (Q4 + Q1) in which irregular relief was received by male recipients of different age categories, Terling, Essex, and Butleigh, Somerset, 1762–1834.

Table 6.1. Percentage distribution of residents who were landowners only or land tenants only or owners and tenants according to size of holding in Terling, Essex, and Butleigh, Somerset.

Table 6.2. Percentage distribution of total value of payments to categories of male and female relief recipients, Terling, Essex, and Butleigh, Somerset, 1762–1834.

Table 6.3. Mean poor relief per capita in shillings (S) for categories of recipient in twenty-year time periods, Terling, Essex, and Butleigh, Somerset, 1762–1834.

Table 6.4. Relief histories of recipients listed on Tithe Awards compared to all other relief recipients in Terling, Essex, and Butleigh, Somerset, 1762–1834.

Table 6.5. Relief recipients' sources of income identified by Terling overseers, 30 October 1811.

Nadine Vivier, Landless Rural Households in France 1852–1910

Table 7.1. Population-size and share of population living in rural and agricultural households in France, 1846–1911 (million).

Table 7.2. The proportion of wage workers in the total agricultural workforce, 1852–1910 in France (numbers and percentages).

Table 7.3. Distribution of employment on farms in France in the 1906 census.

Table 7.4. Average nominal wage for day workers (in francs).

Table 7.5. Proportion of people dying with or without some inherited wealth in Pas-de-Calais.

Table 7.6. Expenses in francs of a family of rural day workers in 1852 (man, wife and three children).

Riikka Miettinen and Jonas Lindström, Survival in a Hostile Agrarian Regime: Landless and Semi-Landless Households in Seventeenth-Century Sweden and Finland

Figure 8.1. Map of Utnäs, county of Västmanland in 1688.
Illustrations

Merja Uotila, Farming Craftsmen? Access to Land and the Socio-Economic Position of Rural Artisans in Early Modern Finland

Graph 9.1. Number of official artisans by trade (right side) and population (left side) in Hollola parish 1780–1840. 231
Table 9.1. Role of agriculture in artisan families in Hollola, 1810–40 (per cent). 232
Table 9.2. Family status of artisans’ brides in Hollola, 1810–40 (per cent). 237
Table 9.3. Family status of artisans’ godchildren in Hollola, 1810–40 (per cent). 239

Margareth Lanzinger, Landlessness and Marriage Restrictions: Tyrol and Vorarlberg in the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Centuries

Table 10.1. Age-specific rates of non-marriage among males at district level (excerpt, 1880). 257
Table 10.2. Age-specific rates of non-marriage among females at district level (excerpt, 1880). 258
Table 10.3. Diocese of Brixen. Dispensation requests in the first degree of affinity ex copula illicita. 265

Christine Fertig, Cottages, Barns and Bake Houses: Landless Rural Households in North-Western Germany in the Eighteenth Century

Figure 11.1. Communities in west, north-west, central and east Münsterland. 278
Figure 11.2. Structure of the database. 279
Table 11.1. Owner-occupied and renter households, by social group. 281
Table 11.2. Owner-occupied and renter households, by region. 283
Table 11.3. Renter families in different types of outbuildings, absolute numbers. 286
Table 11.4. Share of farm/house owners with renter households. 287

Full credit details are provided in the captions to the images in the text. The editors, contributors and publisher are grateful to all the institutions and persons for permission to reproduce the materials in which they hold copyright. Every effort has been made to trace the copyright holders; apologies are offered for any omission, and the publisher will be pleased to add any necessary acknowledgement in subsequent editions.