Contents

Preface — IX

Abbreviations — XVII

1 Introduction: Traditional Views and New Insights on the Quranic Jesus — 1
   Descriptive vs. Anti-Christian Theological Texts? — 1
   The Study of the Quranic Jesus between the 1830s and Now — 2
     From Carl Friedrich Gerock to Denise Masson's Ecumenical Reading of the Qur'ān — 2
     Robert Charles Zaehner and the “Nestorian” Matrix of the Qur'ān’s Christology — 4
     Henri Michaud and the Hypothesis of a Jewish-Christian Influence on the Qur'ān — 7
     Geoffrey Parrinder’s Theological Approach to the Quranic Jesus — 9
     From Ali Merad to Heikki Rääsänen’s Historical Interpretation — 11
     Giuseppe Rizzardi, Claus Schedl, and Günther Risse — 15
     Neal Robinson's Comparative Study on Christ in Islam and Christianity — 16
     Addendum. Investigations on the Emergence of Islam and 7th-Century Near-East Christianity — 17
   Purpose and Argument of this Book, with a Note on the Notion of “Symptomatic Reading” — 20
     Three Preliminary Notions: Polyphony, Periphery, Hypertextuality — 20
     Introducing the Argument of the Book and Its Parts — 23

2 Jesus in the Quranic Corpus: Texts and Contexts — 26
   Distribution of the Relevant Passages — 26
   The Texts, with a Brief Commentary — 27
     Sūrat al-Baqara (Q 2, “The Cow”) — 27
       No. 1: Q 2:87 — 27
       No. 2: Q 2:136 — 28
       No. 3: Q 2:253 — 29
     Sūrat Āl ‘Imrān (Q 3, “The House of ‘Imrān”) — 29
       No. 4: Q 3:33-63 — 29
       No. 5: Q 3:84 — 36
3 Reassessing the Typology, Date, and Ideology of the Jesus Passages – and Their Setting — 55
Towards a New Classification, Formal and Thematic — 55
Formal Division — 55
Thematic Division — 55
Deciphering the Date of the Jesus Passages — 58
Overlooked Texts in Defence of Jesus (and Mary) against the Jews — 58
The Vindication of the Quranic Prophet in Q 3:84 — 58
The Parallel Vindication of the Jesus in Q 2:136 — 60
Anti-Jewish Rhetoric, Anti-Christian Texts, and the Date of the Jesus Passages — 63
Their Setting and the Chronology of the Corpus — 68
Ideological Stages, Redactional Layers, and Historical Periods — 68
The P1 Jesus Passages as a Response to mid-7th-century Jewish Writings like Sēfer Zarubbābel and Sēfer Tōladôt Yēšū? — 75
The P2 Jesus Passages and the Making of a New Religious Identity — 85
Transition — 87

4 Moving Backwards: A Peripheral South-Arabian Christology? — 89
The Withdrawal from Byzantium's Political and Religious Control in 6th-Century Yemen – and the Arabian Peninsula — 89
The Making of a Christian Yemen in the 6th Century — 89
Reflections on Abraha's Enigmatic Christology — 91
Peripheral Christianity and Formative Islam — 96
East Syria and Iraq, or Christianity beyond the Limes of the Byzantine Empire — 101
Monks, Bishops, and the Plausible Anti-Chalcedonian Setting of Q 9:31, 34 — 104
Misunderstood Terms and Redactional Layers in Q 9:30-1 — 104
Pro-Chalcedonian Bishops and Anti-Chalcedonian Monks? — 110
The Philological Crux in v. 9:31a — and v. 9:30 — 113
Five Hypotheses in Search of Q 9:31's Vorlage — 114

5 From the Qur’ān’s Early Christology to the Elaboration of the Muhamadan Kerygma — 118
A Sketch of the Early Qur’ān Christology (Q 75–107) — 118
Introducing a Systematically Overlooked but Crucial Topic — 118
A Heavenly Messenger that Speaks Directly to Mankind and Refers to God as “He” — but Who Is One with God — 119
Excursus 1: Traces of an Angelomorphic Christology? — 125
Introducing the Human alongside the Divine
(Q 17, 68, 73–4, 81, 87, 88) — 129
The Need of a Human Messenger – Almost Absent from the Earliest Quranic Layers — 129
The Exaltation of the Human Messenger — 132
Substituting the Heavenly Messenger by a Human Messenger:
The Beginnings of the Muhamadan Kerygma (Q 53, 55, 69) — 136
A Dual Farewell to the Heavenly Messenger — 136
Re-imagining Jesus as a New John the Baptist — 140
Excursus 2: Contesting the Exclusiveness of the Muhamadan Kerygma, or Reimagining Proto-Shite Christology vis-à-vis the Making of a Tribal- and Supra-Tribal Religion — 140

Afterword — 144

Bibliography — 151

Index of Ancient Sources — 166

Index of Ancient and Modern Authors — 180