Acknowledgments

This collection of essays arises from a research project on intertextuality in Flavian epic poetry funded by the Swiss National Science Foundation and involving the University of Geneva, Switzerland, and the University at Buffalo, SUNY, USA. All the papers were first presented at a work-in-progress seminar held at the Fondation Hardt, in Vandœuvres, on 28–30 May 2015. We would like to thank all the staff at the Fondation Hardt for hosting the event and for all their attentive kindness. Thanks also to those who helped fund the conference, the Swiss National Science Foundation and the Faculty of Arts and the ‘Commission administrative’ of the University of Geneva. We are very grateful to Valéry Berlincourt, Collin Osborne, Matteo Romanello, and Yannick Zanetti for precious help of various kinds. Warm thanks are also due to the staff at De Gruyter for all their assistance, to the editors of the series Trends in Classics for accepting the volume, to two anonymous readers for helpful advice, to Marco Michele Acquafredda for all his encouragement and support, and to everyone involved for their angelic patience. The final word of thanks must go to all the contributors: it was both a pleasure and an education to have the opportunity to work closely with such a generous, friendly, and talented group of scholars.

Neil Coffee, Chris Forstall, Lavinia Galli Milić, Damien Nelis

https://doi.org/10.1515/9783110602203-203