Table of Contents

List of contributors — 7

Regine May and Stephen Harrison
Introduction — 1

I Baroque and the Influence of La Fontaine

Tiziana Ragno
‘Del soffrir degli affanni è dolce il fine’. Ancient myth and comic drama in G.F. Fusconi’s libretto (with G.F. Loredano and P. Michiel) for F. Cavalli, Amore innamorato (1642) — 31

Stephen Harrison
Apuleius at the court of Louis XIV. Psyché (1671, 1678) and its English version (1675) — 47

Christiane Reitz
How to use a wallpaper. Psyché et Cupidon—notice explicative — 61

Jared A. Simard
Psyche in the salon. French interior decoration in the eighteenth century — 79

II Romanticism and Philosophy

Maeve O’Brien
‘Pensive pleasures’ in prose and poetry.
Apuleius, Mary Tighe and eighteenth-century Ireland — 101

Robert H. F. Carver
The Platonic Ass: Thomas Taylor’s Cupid and Psyche
in Context (1795–1822) — 119
Regine May
Keats’s ‘Ode to Psyche’. Psyche as poetry and inspiration —— 147

Michael Paschalis
Sir Walter Scott’s Kenilworth and Apuleius’ tale of Cupid and Psyche —— 167

Zacharias Andreadakis
Kierkegaard as a reader of Apuleius’ Metamorphoses —— 181

Luca Ruggeri
Robert Bridges’ Eros and Psyche and its models —— 203

III Fin de Siècle and Psychology

Lucia Pasetti
From Psyche to psyche. The interiorisation of Apuleius’ fabella in D’Annunzio, Pascoli, and Savinio —— 225

† Christoph Leidl
Between Symbolism and Popular Culture. Cupid and Psyche in Fin de siècle Book Illustration —— 247

Geoffrey C. Benson
Psyche the psychotic. Cupid and Psyche in Dr. Franz Riklin’s Wishfulfilment and Symbolism in Fairy Tales —— 273

Clemence Schultze
Psyche and Cupid in the Novels of Charlotte M. Yonge and Sylvia Townsend Warner —— 289
IV Twentieth Century and Modernism

Julia Haig Gaisser
Eudora Welty’s The Robber Bridegroom.
Cupid and Psyche on the Natchez Trace —— 307

Friedemann Drews
Cupid & Psyche and C.S. Lewis’ Till We Have Faces.
A Christian-Platonic metamorphosis —— 323

Vernon L. Provencal
Faulkner’s reception(s) of Apuleius’ Cupid and Psyche in The Reivers —— 339

Holly Ranger
‘I have tried to be blind in love’. Psyche and the quest for feminine poetic autonomy in Sylvia Plath’s House of Eros —— 357

V New Audiences

Lisa Maurice
Cupid and Psyche for children —— 381

Hendrik Müller
Cupid and Psyche on stage in the 21st century —— 397

Janice Siegel
Undertones of Apuleius’ Cupid and Psyche in Guillermo del Toro’s Pan’s Labyrinth —— 415

Paula James
Beauty and the Beast as a myth and metaphor in the contemporary world.
Looking forward with Apuleius’ fable of Cupid and Psyche —— 433

List of Figures —— 451

Index —— 455