Acknowledgments

This book is the result of the research done for a doctoral degree at the Freie Universität Berlin.

At the beginning, I express my deep gratitude and appreciation to Prof. Dr. Ulrike Freitag, my first supervisor. Prof. Dr. Freitag did her best to help me in Germany and even when I was in Libya, and provided me with all the support I needed. I deeply thank PD Dr. Nora Lafi, I appreciate very much the knowledge she has shared with me concerning original documents, books, maps, among many other sources. I would also like to thank Prof. Dr. Torsten Tschacher, Prof. Dr. Islam Dayeh, and Dr. Christian Sassmannshausen for their precious comments during the defense. I owe deep gratitude to Damascus University (Syria) and specifically to Prof. Moḥammad Aḥmed. Furthermore I am very grateful to the Erasmus Mundus Scholarship, the Freie Universität Berlin and the employees at both respected institutions. Erasmus Mundus financed this research. Indeed, with them I rarely felt lonely in Berlin. A big thank you to all the participants in the Doctoral Colloquium of Prof. Dr. Ulrike Freitag. Moreover, I am grateful to Leibniz-Zentrum Moderner Orient (ZMO) and I would like to extend my gratitude to Dr. Thomas Ripper, the head of the ZMO library. I give my special thanks to Prof.ʿImād al-Dīn Ghānim for his continued help. He provided me with valuable documents and his own books and other literature which were very important for understanding the history of Libya and its relationship with Germany. I give my special thanks to Dr. Gihan Abdalla and Mrs. Nushin Atmaca for their help. In addition to that, I would also like to thank Antonia Bosanquet, Svenja Becherer and Dr. Silke Nagel. Overall, I express my appreciation to all my friends in Berlin and in Libya who are suffering right now from the cruel conditions of the war there, though these did not prevent them from providing me with necessary books and documents from the Libyan Archive.
