Acknowledgements

I am grateful to Daniel Van Olmen, editor of the Trends in Linguistics series, to Volker Gast, former editor of the Trends in Linguistics series, and to Barbara Karlson and Julie Miess, project editors at De Gruyter, for their support at various stages of the preparation of this book.

All but one of the essays comprising the book are based on papers that I have published in various journals and thematic volumes over the years; most of these appear here in reworked versions.

Chapter 16 is a retitled and expanded version of “Four Types of Counterexample to the Latest Test for Perlocutionary Act Names”, Linguistics and Philosophy, Vol. 9 (1986), pp. 219–223.

Chapter 20 is based on a review published in Notre Dame Philosophical Reviews on September 19, 2010.

Chapter 22 is not based on previously published work.

I would like to thank the following publishers for granting me permission to make use of previously published material: Peeters Publishers (Chapter 1), Nicolaus Copernicus University Press (Chapter 3), Cambridge University Press (Chapters 4 and 11), Elsevier Science Publishers (Chapters 5, 21 and 25), Philosophy Documentation Center Inc (Chapter 6), Routledge–Taylor & Francis Group (Chapters 7, 13 and 17), Walter de Gruyter (Chapters 8 and 9), Blackwell Publishers–John Wiley & Sons Ltd (Chapters 10, 14 and 24), Oxford University Press (Chapter 13 and Section 1 of Chapter 2), State University of Pennsylvania Press (Chapter 15), Springer Nature International Publishing (Chapters 16, 19 and 23), John Benjamins Publishing Company (Chapter 18 and Section 2 of Chapter 2), University of Notre Dame Philosophy Department (Chapter 20).
