

Acknowledgements

This volume represents a result from an ongoing research of border issues undertaken at the Interdisciplinary Center of the Humboldt Universität zu Berlin “Border Crossings – Crossing Borders. Berlin Center for Transnational Border Research”. We would like to thank the Center for its material support both for the publication of this volume and for facilitating the conference that preceded it. The idea for this volume goes back to the research stay of Dr. Srdjan Radović (Institute of Ethnography SASA) at the Institute of Slavic and Hungarian Studies of the Humboldt Universität zu Berlin funded by the DFG, and a conference organized by the editors in November 2019 entitled “Borders and Spaces in South-East Europe – Historical and Contemporary Imaginations and Practices of B/ordering”, hosted by the “Border Crossings – Crossing Borders” Center. The whole process would have been unthinkable without the constant support in all organizational matters by Julian Sandhagen.

Academically, the volume also profited from the discussions with the participants at the conference and particularly from the inspiring keynote by Prof. Sarah Green at the opening. We would also like to thank our colleagues Prof. Regina Römhild, Prof. Dobrinka Parusheva, Prof. Christian Voss and Prof. Hannes Grandits for their suggestions during the conference and beyond. In particular, we would like to single out Prof. Wolfgang Höpken and Prof. Tvrtko Jakovina for their numerous valuable stimulating advice and inputs. Naturally, the contributors to this volume and their innovative and inspiring papers represent the scholarly backbone of this volume.

In the preparation of the manuscript, Dr. Philip Jacobs prudently brushed up our language. Finally, our thanks go to Dr. Elise Wintz, Verena Deutsch and Dr. Julia Brauch from the De Gruyter publishing house for their continuous assistance.
