Table of Contents

Carmen Flury, Michael Geiss
Computers in Europe’s Classrooms: An Introduction — 1

Part I: Case Studies

Clémence Cardon-Quint
Informatique pour tous, France 1985: Pedagogy, Industry and Politics — 15

Lajos Somogyvári, Máté Szabó, Gábor Képes
How Computers Entered the Classroom in Hungary: A Long Journey from the Late 1950s into the 1980s — 39

Iveta Kestere, Katrina Elizabete Purina-Bieza

Rosalía Guerrero Cantarell
Teachers Translating and Circumventing the Computer in Lower and Upper Secondary Swedish Schools in the 1970s and 1980s — 99

Carmen Flury
Joining Forces: The Promotion of Public-Private Partnerships to Bring Computers into West German Schools in the 1980s — 123

Michael Geiss
Computer Education in Switzerland: Politics and Markets in a Highly Decentralized Country — 147

Part II: Trans- and Supranational Perspectives

Karin Priem
Michael Geiss, Carmen Flury, Rosalía Guerrero

Barbara Hof

Defuturization Machines: The OECD’s Early Efforts to Plan the Computerized Future of Education — 217

Contributors — 239