Acknowledgments

_Rethinking Medical Humanities_ would not have been brought into completion without the generous assistance of Professor Alain Touwaide, whose guidance and professional help permeates every structural element of the volume. Many thanks are also due to Lee Walcott and the Ahmanson Foundation for their continuous support of the academic activities in the field of Medical Humanities at UCLA, particularly those related to the Renaissance and Medieval periods. Lastly, but certainly not last, much gratitude is due to Nina Bjekcovic for her meticulous correlation of the book’s texts and references.
