Acknowledgements

This monograph constitutes a revised version of my doctoral thesis, submitted and defended at the University of Santiago de Compostela (Spain) in March, 2021. I am greatly indebted to my supervisor, Professor María José López Couso, for her invaluable advice and guidance throughout the planning and development of this work. I feel immensely privileged to have learnt – and still be learning – from such an exceptional professional. I would also like to express my genuine gratitude to Professors Kathryn Allan, Dirk Speelman, and Augusto Soares da Silva for their expertise and wise counsel received during my research stays at University College London, KU Leuven, and the Catholic University of Portugal. I have also benefitted tremendously from the feedback provided by the thesis committee, made up by Professors Kathryn Allan, Pascual Cantos Gómez, and Belén Méndez Naya. In this regard, special thanks are due to Dr. Allan, with whom I was able to further discuss my PhD following the defense, and who was happy to send me all her notes. I also want to thank the research group Variation and Linguistic Change and Grammaticalization at the University of Santiago de Compostela, and all its members for their encouragement. For generous financial support, I am grateful to the European Regional Development Fund and the following institutions: The Regional Government of Galicia (grants ED481A–2016/168, ED431B 2017/12, ED431D 2017/09, and ED431B 2020/01) and the Spanish Ministry of Innovation, Science, and Universities (grants FFI2017–86884-P and PID2020-114604GB-100). Finally, I would like to express my profound gratitude to my partner, family, and friends, who have all, in one way or another, played an important part in making this monograph possible with their wholehearted support and commitment over the last few years.
