List of Maps

Introduction
Map 1: Findspots of the Pre-Old English inscriptions; map base: © EuroGeographics, linguistic details: RuneS research unit Eichstätt-München —— 3
Map 2: Findspots of the Old English inscriptions; map base: © EuroGeographics, linguistic details: RuneS research unit Eichstätt-München —— 4

Frisian Runes Revisited and an Update on the Bergakker Runic Item
Map 1: Frisia in the seventh/eighth century, from Gerrets (2010, 3); © Daniël A. Gerrets —— 105
Map 2: The ‘Frisian’ and ‘Frankish’ runic items, part of a Continental North Sea group (taken from Looijenga 2021, Fig. 13.1, p. 377) —— 109

Runic Finds from the Kingdom of East Anglia and Their Archaeological Contexts
Map 1: The kingdom of East Anglia —— 139
Map 2: Caistor St Edmund showing evidence for Anglo-Saxon cemeteries and settlement between the fifth and ninth centuries —— 144

The Franks Casket, Part A: The Dating and Provenance of the Franks Casket: An Art-Historical Perspective
Map 1: Northumbrian monastic centres mentioned in the text; map base: © EuroGeographics, linguistic details: RuneS research unit Eichstätt-München —— 232

The Franks Casket, Part C: The Date and the Provenance of the Franks Casket: A Linguistic and Runological Perspective
Map 1: Runic inscriptions in Northumbria (late 7th–10th/11th cent.); map base: © EuroGeographics, linguistic details: RuneS research unit Eichstätt-München —— 268
Map 2: Inscriptions applying the yew-rune in the Pre-OE and OERC (fricative, vowel, rune no. 13 as a fuþorc-unit) —— 282
Map 3: Rune h used in the cluster ‹ht› in the OERC; map base: © EuroGeographics, linguistic details: RuneS research unit Eichstätt-München —— 283
Map 4: Attested distribution of the runes gl(ë)fu × and gār × to denote [ɤ] initially, medially and finally; map base: © EuroGeographics, linguistic details: RuneS research unit Eichstätt-München —— 285
Map 5: Attested distribution of rune no. 6 cēn ×; a and its variants h, h in inscriptions proper for the plosive allophones [k] and [k]; map base: © EuroGeographics, linguistic details: RuneS research unit Eichstätt-München —— 293
Map 6: Attested distribution of cēn × [k]; [k], calc ↓ [k]; [k], and rune no. 31 × [k]; map base: © EuroGeographics, linguistic details: RuneS research unit Eichstätt-München —— 294

A Concise and Selected Guide to Terminologies
Map 1: Old English dialect areas; map base: © EuroGeographics, linguistic details based on SB (1965): RuneS research unit Eichstätt-München —— 314

https://doi.org/10.1515/9783110796834-204