Contents

Preface by the Editors v

Introduction 1

Part I: Essays in Sacred Biography

1. The many lives of Buddha: A study of sacred biography and Theravāda tradition, by Frank E. Reynolds, University of Chicago 37

2. Following the Beloved: Muhammad as model in the Sufi tradition, by Earle Waugh, Cleveland State University 63

3. The life of Śaṅkarācārya,
   by David N. Lorenzen, El Colegio de México 87

4. Religious biography in India: The ‘nectar of the acts’ of Caitanya, by Edward C. Dimock, Jr., University of Chicago 109

Part II: Biographical Traditions and Individual Lives

5. The story of Tukbaw: ‘They listen as he orates’, by Renato Rosaldo, Stanford University 121

6. Religious paradigms and political action: ‘The murder in the cathedral’ of Thomas Becket, by Victor Turner, University of Chicago 153

7. Ralph Waldo Emerson: The birth of a seer, by Richard A. Hutch, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale 187
8. Newman’s illness in Sicily: The reformer as biographer, by Donald Capps, University of North Carolina at Charlotte 201

PART III: INDIVIDUAL LIVES AND CULTURAL INNOVATION

9. Personal identity and cultural crisis: The case of Anagārika Dharmapala of Sri Lanka, by Gananath Obeyesekere, University of California, San Diego 221

10. The Beecher family: Microcosm of a chapter in the evolution of religious sensibility in America, by Robert Michaelsen, University of California, Santa Barbara 253

11. Psychobiography and communal patterns: John Humphrey Noyes and the Oneida community, by Dennis Klass, Webster College 273

12. The uses and limits of psychobiography as an approach to popular culture: The case of ‘The Western’,
    by Peter Homans, University of Chicago 297

PART IV: FROM INDIVIDUAL LIFE TO HAGIOGRAPHY

13. Kūkai as master and savior,
    by Joseph M. Kitagawa, University of Chicago 319

14. The death and ‘lives’ of the poet-monk Saigyō: The genesis of a Buddhist sacred biography, by William La Fleur, Princeton University 343

15. The loneliness of Matsuo Bashō,
    by James H. Foard, Stanford University 363

16. Lincoln’s martyrdom: A study of exemplary mythic patterns,
    by Donald Capps, University of North Carolina at Charlotte 393
BIBLIOGRAPHY

1. Lives of founders 413
2. Lives and legends of saints 419
3. Saviors, heroes, and divine personages 420
4. Reformers, rulers, and other religious leaders 421
5. Social scientific studies of religious individuals 422
6. Comparative biographical studies 425
7. General works in biography and autobiography 425
8. Author's index to the bibliography 426

INDEX OF PROPER NAMES 430