ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The present dictionary represents the culmination of the efforts of many people. The project was initially supported morally and administratively by the Centre for the Study of Nigerian Languages under the direction of Professor Paul Newman, and later under Dr. Abdulkadir Dandatti. Subsequent support was provided by the University of Maiduguri and by the Chair of the Department of Languages and Linguistics, Professor C.M.B. Brann. The advice and assistance of Shettima Bukar Abba and Tijani El-Miskin had a profound impact on the make-up of the dictionary, as did the incredible resources and knowledge of Wakkil Modu, who was the primary Kanuri language consultant throughout the project. Those working on the project were most enthusiastically supported by the Kanuri people of Maiduguri, without whose help the project would have been unrealizable. Their indefatigable patience under our relentless questioning brought many new words for the dictionary. Daily visits to our offices in the Borno Local Authority compound yielded an endless supply of new information. We greatly benefited from the support of the Borno Local Authority in the person of the Shehu of Borno. The then Waziri of Borno, the late Abba Sadiq, was most encouraging to us at all stages of our work. The Kanuri Language Board, under the chairmanship of Alhaji Idrissa Kadi, provided an official sounding board for the Kanuri language research that was carried out in Maiduguri during the 1970s.

We are extremely grateful to Foris Publications for making it possible for this publication to finally see the light of day.
