

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Explanatory Notes on the Text	xiii
Introduction	1
 Part 1: Old and New models of Sovereignty in Europe-as-Christendom
Chapter 1
Christendom revived: Catholic and Romantic visions of Europe	19
Chapter 2
Protestantism and Anglicanism in the 19 th century: The challenge to Europe-as-Christendom	36
Chapter 3
Liberalism and popular sovereignty: Christendom reconstructed	52
Chapter 4
The significance of the Christendom narrative in 20 th -century Christian Democracy and Christian Socialism	66
Chapter 5
Federalism, Confederation and the new Christendom: 19 th -century models of European unity	77
Chapter 6
The Christendom legacy in 20 th -century federalism	98
 Part 2: 'Christendom' as the Realm of Universal History
Chapter 7
The appropriation of Universal History	115
Chapter 8
Christendom as a hermeneutical realm	134

Chapter 9
The Christendom legacy in 20 th -century histories	154
Chapter 10
From Universal History to the history of Europe as Idea	172
 Part 3: The 'Spirit of Europe' and its 'Others'
Chapter 11
Nationalism, Europeanism and the grand narrative	187
Chapter 12
Pan-Germanism and Prussian militarism: a remodelled narrative	207
Chapter 13
Europe-as-Christendom and the Jews of the European Diaspora	218
Chapter 14
From 'barbarians without' to 'barbarians within': Christendom and the idea of civilization in the 'long' 19 th century	238
Chapter 15
Islam and Christendom	255
Chapter 16
The question of Russia	283
Chapter 17
The 20 th century: barbarism and civilization reassessed	299
Chapter 18
Christendom as the 'spirit of Europe'	318
Conclusion	331
Bibliography	347
Index	373