Contents

Preface —— V
List of Figures —— IX

Introduction —— XI
The approach from Anthropology —— XIV
The concept of news today —— XVI
The concept of news in Ancient Greek Literature —— XVII
Using ἄγγελος and its derivatives to understand the concept of news —— XVII
Etymology: ἄγγελος, a Greek creation —— XX
Meanings —— XXI

1 Homer: The Iliad and the Odyssey —— 1
Κήρυκες: heralds by profession —— 2
Ἄγγελοι: anyone can be a messenger —— 5
From the death of Patroclus to the return of Odysseus: bad and good news —— 13
Final remarks —— 32

2 Greek Lyric Poetry: Pindar and Bacchylides —— 34
Two practically identical figures —— 35
The triumph is news —— 38
Final remarks —— 45

3 Tragedy —— 47
Κήρυκες: heralds by profession —— 47
Ἄγγελοι: professional messengers —— 58
Why messenger scenes? —— 60
The presence of the chorus makes scene-shifts practically impossible —— 60
A chorus cannot act crowd-scenes —— 60
Miracles cannot be shown on stage —— 61
Death on stage was not feasible —— 61
Literary tradition —— 62
Defining the tragic messenger —— 62
Ἄγγελοι play an informative role —— 65
Ἄγγελοι are eyewitnesses: the αὐτοψία —— 66
Ἄγγελοι reinforce their speeches with statements from the main characters of the events they relate —— 68
The news transmitted by ἄγγελοι is completely reliable — 69
Criteria for classifying characters as ἄγγελοι — 70
From war to suicides: a wide range of news — 72
Final remarks — 100

4 Aristophanic Comedy — 101
Κήρυκες: heralds by profession — 101
Ἄγγελοι: the parody of the tragic messenger — 106
Absurd announcements: the mockery of tragic news — 115
Final remarks — 125

5 Historians: Herodotus, Thucydides and Xenophon — 127
Ἅγιος: and κήρυκες: professionals in diplomatic missions — 129
Bearers of news — 134
Spies looking for information from the enemy — 139
Royal messengers — 143
From news of war to legal terms — 143
Final remarks — 182

6 Greek Oratory: Isocrates, Lysias, Aeschines and Demosthenes — 185
No news from the messenger — 185
Public matters and legal language — 187
Final remarks — 213

7 Fake News — 215
Derivatives of ἄγιος: truth and falsehood — 216
Fake news in Greek tragedy — 219
Fake news in the works of historians — 225
Final remarks — 229

8 Conclusions — 230

Bibliography — 233
General Index — 251
Index Locorum — 255