Table of Contents

Acknowledgements 9

Introduction: Projecting Sinophone Cine-Feminisms 11
   Towards an Intimate-Public Commons

1 Migrating Hearts 51
   Sinophone Geographies of Sylvia Chang's “Woman's Film”

2 Floating Light and Shadows 79
   Huang Yu-shan's Chronicles of Modern Taiwan

3 From Sidewalk Realism to Spectral Romance 107
   Yang Lina's Post-Socialist Beijing and Beyond

4 Eggs, Stones, and Stretch Marks 137
   Haptic Visuality and Tactile Resistance in Huang Ji's Personal Cinema

5 “Spicy-Painful” Theater of History 167
   Wen Hui's Documentary Dance with Third Grandmother

6 In Praise of Trans-Asian Sisterhood 191
   Labor, Love, and Homecoming in Jasmine Ching-hui Lee's Money and Honey

7. “We Are Alive” 221
   Minor Transnationalism and Yau Ching's Experimental Filmmaking

8 Outcries and Whispers 251
   Digital Political Mimesis and Radical Feminist Documentary

Epilogue 287

Chinese Glossary 295
Bibliography 303
Filmography 325
List of figures 331
Index 335