JOURNAL OF ANCIENT NEAR EASTERN HISTORY

FOUNDING EDITOR
Marc Van De Mieroop, New York, NY

EDITOR
Steven Garfinkle, Bellingham, WA

EDITORIAL BOARD
Heather Baker, Toronto
Michael Kozuh, Auburn, AL
Jacob Lauinger, Baltimore, MD
Cécile Michel, Paris
Francesca Rochberg, Berkeley, CA
Michael Sommer, Oldenburg

DE GRUYTER
Contents

Special Issue: Outside the Pale: Marginality and Liminality in the Bronze Age Near East
Guest Associate Editors: Susan L. Cohen and Jana Mynářová

Susan L. Cohen and Jana Mynářová
Outside the Pale: Marginality and Liminality in the Bronze Age Near East. Introduction — 147

Shawn Bubel
Defining Marginality and Liminality for the Study of the Ancient Near East — 155

Aaron de Souza
Not Marginal, But Marginalised. The ‘Pan-Grave’ Archaeological Culture, Pharaonic Egypt, and Egyptology — 173

Carl Walsh
Marginal Communities and Cooperative Strategies in the Kerma Pastoral State — 195

Susan L. Cohen
The Negev in the Intermediate Bronze Age: Questions of Subsistence, Trade, and Status — 221

Kevin M. McGeough
Debt and Credit: Entangling the Marginal and Liminal in the Non-monetary Economies of Bronze Age Ugarit — 243

Steven E. Falconer and Patricia L. Fall
Sacred Spaces and Liminal Behavior in Levantine Temples in Antis — 259

Jana Mynářová
Liminal People(s) in the Late Bronze Age Levant? A New Light on Sherden (šerdanu) — 285
Steven Garfinkle
The Participation of Marginal and Liminal Groups in Secondary State Formation under the Third Dynasty of Ur — 305

Seth Richardson
Hard Times for Sippar Women: Three Late Old Babylonian Cases — 319