ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Many individuals gave generously of their time and services to make possible the University of California conference and volume on "Competition for California Water: Alternative Resolutions." Grateful appreciation for their significant contributions is extended to the following persons and groups:

Members of the Organizing Committee who planned, guided and contributed to this activity through many meetings and discussions over a two-year period. The committee developed the format for the conference and the volume, selected the participants, and supervised and participated in all of the events.

Marcia Kreith who served as Conference Coordinator and who so capably handled all of the organizational arrangements. Without her dedication and energy this undertaking would not have succeeded.

The authors and contributors to this volume who undertook the substantial task of preparing a set of analytical papers on the major facets of California water policy. They devoted many hours to this collective enterprise and carried out their assignments in addition to their regular teaching and research activities without any additional compensation.

University faculty members Margaret FitzSimmons, John Harte, Laura Lake, Walter B. Lawrence and Robert Williams for assistance in developing the outlines of the early versions of some of the manuscripts.

Reviewers who made constructive criticisms of the manuscripts in their initial stages.

The conference participants who took time from busy schedules to review the manuscripts and participate in three days of meetings. Many of their valuable comments and suggestions have been incorporated into this volume.

Leaders and recorders of conference discussion groups who were responsible for guiding the dialogue into constructive channels and providing group reactions to water policy issues for the plenary sessions. Without their efforts the goal of intellectual interchange at the conference would not have been attained.

Members of the University staff who provided invaluable administrative assistance at various stages of this undertaking, notably Betty Esky and Ruth Laidlaw of the Department of Land, Air and Water Resources, Marian Cain and Kelly Carner of the Public Service Research and Dissemination Program, and Otto Helweg and Patricia Farid of the Water Resources Center.
