Acknowledgments

I AM DEEPLY INDEBTED to the late Mrs. Clara Clemens Samossoud and the trustees of the Mark Twain Estate with whose permission this selection from the unpublished manuscripts of Samuel L. Clemens has been assembled. I am indebted as well to Mr. Henry Nash Smith and to Mr. John D. Gordan, curator of the Henry W. and Albert A. Berg Collection of the New York Public Library, not only for their part in the arrangements which made this volume possible but also for their aid during the editorial process. My thanks must also go to Mr. Frederick Anderson, Literary Editor of the Mark Twain Papers, for his assistance with numerous details and to Mr. Hennig Cohen, of the University of Pennsylvania, whose file of Mark Twain's political newsletters, generously offered, greatly facilitated my research.

A substantial amount of the free time devoted to my editorial task was made possible by grants from the Research Committee of the Graduate School, University of Wisconsin. The aid thus given is sincerely appreciated as, too, is the additional financial support, covering a large portion of my expenses, afforded both by the University of Wisconsin and the University of California.

I wish to acknowledge here the kindness of several publishers who have permitted me to quote, sometimes extensively, from their publications: The Belknap Press of Harvard University Press for quotations from The Mark Twain-Howells Letters, ed. H. N. Smith and W. M. Gibson; Harper & Row, Publishers, for quotations from Europe and Elsewhere and Mark Twain's Letters, ed. A. B. Paine, Mark Twain in Eruption, ed. B. DeVoto, and Mark Twain, A Biography by A. B. Paine; Charles Scribner's Sons for quotations from The Tocsin of Revolt and Other Essays by Brander Matthews; and Mrs. Doris Webster for quotations from Mark Twain, Business Man, ed. S. C. Webster.

For valuable criticism during the final stages of composition, I am grateful to Mr. Smith and Mr. Walter Blair, both of whom read the introduction and the various headnotes and offered suggestions which proved useful in strengthening these parts. But I cannot, in good conscience, thrust off on them any remaining blameworthy flaws and errors: these must remain mine.

Finally, thanks must go to Mrs. Mary Ann Rogers and Bruce Rogers, who contributed, among other things, a vast amount of patience.
