CONTENTS

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction: Four Ways of Looking at an Invisible Man 1

1. From Harlem Renaissance to Harlem Apocalypse:
   Just Representations and the Epistemology of Race 39

2. 1952: Invisible Man’s Theological Occasion 69

3. Above the Veil: Nathan A. Scott Jr. and the Theological Apprenticeship of Ralph Ellison 96

4. Wrestling Proteus in the New Dispensation: Civil Rights,
   Civil Religion, and One Blues Invisible 118

5. Conceived in Sin: Ralph Ellison’s Nineteenth Century 144
   Conclusion: Two More Ways of Looking at an Invisible Man 179

Notes 195

Bibliography 237

Index 255

About the Author 265