Contents

Figures and Tables ix
Acknowledgements xi
Acronyms xiii
Contributors xv

Introduction 1

Part 1: Towards a Multilingual Paradigm in Foreign Language Education

1 Multilingual Approaches to Additional Language Teaching: Bridging Theory and Practice 15
   Anna Krulatz, Georgios Neokleous and Anne Dahl

2 Mainstreaming Multilingualism in Education: An Eight-Ds Framework 30
   Nayr Ibrahim

3 Enhancing Foreign Language Teachers’ Use of Multicultural Literature with an Analytical Framework for Interpreting Picturebooks about East Asian Cultures 47
   Ngoc Tai Huynh, Angela Thomas and Vinh To

Part 2: Languaging Practices in Multilingual Classrooms

4 The Multilingual Language Classroom: Applying Linguistically Diverse Approaches for Handling Prior Languages in Teaching English as a Third Language 67
   Tanja Angelovska

5 ‘There Are Many Ways to Integrate Multilingualism’: All-inclusive Foreign Language Education in the Netherlands 82
   Mirjam Günther-van der Meij and Joana Duarte

6 Learning English as a Foreign Language in a Bi(dia)lectal Setting 101
   Spyros Armostis and Dina Tsagari

7 Constructing Translanguaging Space in EFL Classrooms in Indonesia: Opportunities and Challenges 118
   Rasman Rasman and Margana Margana
Part 3: Teacher and Learner Perspectives

8 Capturing Hybrid Linguistic Repertoires: Learner and In-service Teacher Attitudes towards Translanguaging in Multilingual EAL Classrooms in Cyprus 137
Georgios Neokleous

9 Teachers’ Attitudes towards Multilingualism in the Foreign Language Classroom: The Case of French and German in the Swedish Context 154
Ylva Falk and Christina Lindqvist

10 Inside the L3 Classroom: Learner Reflections on University-level Foreign Language Classes for Bilinguals in the United States 170
Will Travers

11 Teaching English as an Additional Language in German Secondary Schools: Pluralistic Approaches to Language Learning and Teaching in Action 186
Romana Kopečková and Gregory Poarch

12 Teaching English in Linguistically Diverse Classrooms in Norway: Teachers’ Beliefs, Practices and Needs in Multilingual Education 201
Yeşim Sevinç, Anna Krulatz, Eivind Torgersen and MaryAnn Christison

13 EFL Education for Social Justice: A Study of Japanese EFL Student Teachers’ Perceptions about Diversity and Minority 219
Mieko Yamada

Part 4: Innovative Multilingual Pedagogies in Foreign Language Classrooms

14 Adopting Pluralistic Approaches when Teaching an Additional Language 237
Antoinette Camilleri Grima

15 An Applied Perspective on Holistic Multilingual Approaches to Foreign Language Learning and Teaching 255
Manon Megens and Elisabeth Allgäuer-Hackl

16 Promoting Multilingualism through Immersion Education: A Case Study in a Thai K-12 International School 272
MaryAnn Christison and Adrian S. Palmer

17 Plurilingual Inputs in Task-based TEFL: A Way of Promoting Inclusion 287
Gisela Mayr
18 The Use of Students’ Linguistic Resources in Teaching English as an Additional Language in Norway: A Study of Writing in Upper Secondary School 304
Marina Prilutskaya, Rebecca Knoph and Jessica Allen Hanssen

19 Operationalizing Multilingualism in a Foreign Language Classroom in Norway: Opportunities and Challenges 320
Gro-Anita Myklevold

Afterword 340
Kristen Lindahl

Index 345