Figures

Figure 1.1 The Calgary-Cambridge Guide framework (Silverman et al., 2013: 19) 9

Figure 2.1 Possible strategies for doing FTAs (Brown & Levinson, 1987: 69) 24

Figure 2.2 Three levels of uniqueness in mental programming (Hofstede et al., [1991] 2010: 6) 31

Figure 3.1 Face-PCC analytical categories 57

Tables

Table 1.1 A summary of the definitions relevant to PCC in chronological order 6

Table 3.1 A list of physician participants 47

Table 3.2 Patient participant ages 48

Table 3.3 A list of consultations with older patients attending on their own 50

Table 3.4 A list of consultations with older patients attending with their families 50

Table 3.5 Consultation phases indicated by doctor’s signposting 55

Table 3.6 Consultation phases by contents derived from the preliminary analysis 56

Table 4.1 Summary of the communicative acts in Listening to Patients and Identifying Issues 86

Table 5.1 Summary of the communicative acts in Empathy and Acceptance 107
Table 6.1 Summary of the communicative acts in Works towards shared decision-making 124

Table 7.1 Summary of the communicative acts in Leaving space for the patient and Respects the patient’s freedom 132