This book is a commemoration of my journey in the field of ICH tourism in the past decade. Though this journey is bittersweet, it is always rewarding.

This book is largely based on my PhD research at the Cultural Heritage Centre for Asia and the Pacific, the Alfred Deakin Institute for Citizenship and Globalisation, Deakin University, Australia. I wouldn’t have completed this intellectual journey if I hadn’t been inspired, supported and encouraged by my supervisors: Emeritus Prof William Logan, Prof Andrea Witcomb, Dr Fengqi Qian and Kristal Buckley AM. I owe great gratitude to them. Meanwhile, my special thanks should also be given to my colleagues at Deakin University, as well as the reviewers to this book, for their valuable comments.

I would like to thank many ICH practitioners and local people in China who helped me with their kindness, generosity and traditional knowledge. At the same time, the fieldwork couldn’t have been completed without the assistance from officials and scholars in China. I would like to thank the funders in China. My recent research in China from 2019 to 2022 was funded by the China National Social Sciences Fund Project New Ideas and New Methods in the Protection and Uses of Intangible Cultural Heritage in Contemporary China (19BMZ069) and the Start-up Fund for the Introduced Talents at Yunnan University (C176220100051).

Last but not least, I express my gratitude to my parents and wife for their continuous love, care and encouragement for me to travel and explore the wonderful world.
