Biographical Notes

Dr Ian D. Clark is a Professor of Tourism in the Faculty of Business at Federation University Australia. He has a Doctorate in Aboriginal Historical Geography from Monash University. His areas of interest include the history of tourism, cultural heritage management, attractions management, Indigenous tourism, Victorian Aboriginal history, and placenames.

Ever Dolce has a Bachelor of Commerce degree from the University of Ballarat. His areas of interest include colonial history, environmental sustainability, macroeconomics and social justice.

Lisa Justin has a Bachelor of Management degree from Federation University Australia. Her area of research interest is tourism.

Sharnee Sergi has a Bachelor of Rural Social Welfare degree from Federation University Australia. Her professional areas of interest include community development, social justice and human rights, and an ongoing commitment to research and building evidence-based practice.

Stephanie Skidmore has a Bachelor of Tourism Management degree from Federation University Australia. Her interests include local history as well as Indigenous history of Australia.

Jaimie Watson has a Bachelor of Arts Humanities and Social Sciences degree from the University of Ballarat. Her areas of interest include 20th century history, Australian history and sociology.