Acknowledgments

The co-editors thank all the members of the Behaviourally Informed Organizations partnership (biorgpartnership.com) housed at the Behavioural Economics in Action at Rotman (BEAR) research center for their many comments and suggestions on the manuscript. Special thanks are given to the founding project manager, Melanie Kim, and to BEAR team members Bing Feng, Matthew Hilchey, Liz Kang, Aki Kim, Cindy Luo, and Renante Rondina for assisting with project coordination and preparation of the manuscript. This book project is funded by BEAR, and by a grant from the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada (SSHRC), and we are grateful for their support.

The author of chapter 7 thanks Ken Whitehurst, executive director, Consumers Council of Canada (CCC), for his excellent comments on earlier drafts of this chapter; and Jay Jackson, also of CCC, for his encouragement and assistance with the research on the boundedly rational consumer over the past twelve years.
