Contents

Acknowledgments vii

Introduction: Rise of Oppositional Chinese Political Novels 3
Chinese Political Fiction in the Twentieth Century 4
Sociopolitical Crisis and the Re-politicization of Society in the New Century 9
Propitious Circumstances for Political Articulation 12
Scope, Themes, Methodology, and Structure of the Book 17

1 Destruction of Communist Myths 23
Them versus Us: Subversion of the Party-People Myth 24
From Critics to Servants: Changed Role of Chinese Intellectuals after Tiananmen 31
Nationalism as State Ideology 40
Ideologization of Morality, Hedonism, and Political Acquiescence 46
Summary 52

2 Wolf Totem: Paradoxical Eulogy to a Culture 53
Wolf Totem and Mongolian Correlative Cosmology 55
Social Darwinism, Reverse Chauvinism, and Nationalism 60
A Wolf Destroyed by the “Wolf Logic” 66
Ideological Hegemony behind a Literary Sensation 73
Summary 78

3 Lenin’s Kisses: Absurdity, Dehumanization, and Dilemma of the Chinese Utopia 80
Revolution as Nightmare 83
Contemporary Freak Show: Absurdity and Cruelty of the Biopolitics of a Utopia 90
“With Money, Anything Is Possible” 99
Arbitrariness of Power, Sustainability of Dictatorship, and Dead-End Future  106
Summary  112

4 Such Is This World@sars.come: Dictatorship as a Fatal Disease  114
“Lockdown” as Social Reality and Political Allegory  115
The Terrifying “Old Crone” behind the Screen  120
The Chinese Intelligentsia after Tiananmen:
Cynicism and Division  126
Two Faces of the Party: Ugliness behind a Lovely Mask  135
Summary  143

5 The Fat Years: Social Injustice, Forced Amnesia, Distorted Mentality, and Fascism  145
Fake Paradise: Darkness behind the Chinese “Miracle”  147
Falsified History and Forced Amnesia  154
Mental Distortion and Spiritual Agony  161
“Fascism? We Are Only in Its Early Stages!”  166
Summary  171

6 The Seventh Day: Dystopian Wasteland versus Modern Peach Blossom Spring  173
Bloody Predation and Deceptive Propaganda  174
Destruction of Sanctified Human Feelings  180
Banality of Evil: Callous Indifference and Moral Corruption  186
Peach Blossom Spring: Utopia of Truth, Love, and Happiness  190
Summary  196

Epilogue: Limits of Transgression and Mechanisms of Counter-Censorship  198

Notes  209
Bibliography  235
Index  251