

Contents

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS vii

Introduction 3

- 1 'A Dutiful Imperial Daughter': Assessing the Future of the
New Dominion 11
  - 2 'The Wild and Woolly West': A 'Boy's Own' View of Canada 37
  - 3 'Hunter's Paradise': Imperial-Minded Sportsmen in Canada 61
  - 4 'Quaint Quebec': British Views of French Canada 87
  - 5 'A Farm of One's Own': The British Emigrant's View of Western Canada 115
  - 6 A Different Kind of Frontier: The Investor's View of Canada 141
  - 7 Specimens of a Dying Race: British Views of the Canadian
Indian 167
  - 8 A Country in Need of Culture and Refinement: A Middle-Class
Female View of Canada 187
  - 9 Canadian Society: A Question of Manners 213
- Epilogue: The End of an Imperial Era 233

NOTES 243

INDEX 265

