

Contents

Introduction: Theoretical Common Places 1

Rubber Plants and the Soviet Order of Things 5
Archeology of the Common Place 11 A Labyrinth without a Monster 20 The Mythologist as Traveler 23

1. Mythologies of Everyday Life 29

Byt: Daily Grind and Domestic Trash 29 Poshlost': Banality, Obscenity, Bad Taste 41 Meshchanstvo: Middle Class, Middlebrow 66 Private Life and Russian Soul 73
Truth, Sincerity, Affectation 95 Kul'turnost': The Totalitarian Lacquer Box 102 Soviet Songs: From Stalin's
Fairy Tale to "Good-bye, Amerika" 110

2. Living in Common Places: The Communal Apartment 121

Family Romance and Communal Utopia 121 Art and the Housing Crisis: Intellectuals in the Closet 130
Welcome to the Communal Apartment 139
Psychopathology of Soviet Everyday Life 145 Interior
Decoration 150 The Ruins of Utopia 160
A Homecoming, 1991 165

3. Writing Common Places: Graphomania 168

History of the Literary Disease 168 The Forgotten
Classics 174 The Genius of the People and the

Conceptual Police	192	Glasnost , 'Graphomania, and Popular Culture	205	A Taxi Ride with a Graphomaniac	213
4. Postcommunism, Postmodernism	215
The End of the Soviet World: From the Barricades to the Bazaar	215	Glasnost ' Streetwalking: Fallen Monuments and Rising Dolls	225	Stalin's Cinematic Charisma, or History as Kitsch	238
Trashy Jewels of Women Artists	254	Merchant Renaissance and Cultural Scandals	265	The Obscure Object of Advertisement	271
Conclusion: Nostalgia for the Common Place	283
Notes	293
Index	343				