

Contents

Introduction 1

PART I

A New Jerusalem: The Historical Work of Imagination

1. Plato and the Dialectic of Criticism 13
2. Blake and the Aesthetics of Deliberate Engagement 32
3. The Dawn of the Incommensurate 50
4. Poetic Ideology and Nonnormative Truth 73

PART II

Adverse Wheels: Literature and the Work of Knowing

5. Beginning Again: Literary Studies and the Crisis of Legitimation 95
6. The Scandal of Referentiality 115
7. Some Forms of Critical Discourse 132
8. The Idea of an Indeterminate Text: Blake and Dr. Alexander Geddes 152
9. Ulysses as a Postmodern Work 173

PART IIILiterature and the Future of History10. Contemporary Poetry, Alternate Routes* 197*11. The Third World of Criticism* 219*Conclusion: The Loss of Poetry* 241*Notes* 251*Index* 271

If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, may my right hand forget her cunning.

Psalm 137

