

Contents

I Introduction	1
Part One. The Structure and Ordering of Ends
II Means and Ends	7
A Straw Man	7
The Complexity of Ends	11
The Concept of Rational Ends	14
Explicit and Implicit Principles	19
III Rational Ends and Their Principles	26
The Rationality of Rational Ends	27
Kinds of Rational Ends	34
Particular Ends and General Principles	36
IV The Principle of Morality	40
The Principle of Morality Introduced	41
The Principle of Morality as the Most General Principle Applicable to Relations with Other Persons	45

Contents

Why Should We Be Moral?	55
Justice and the Obligations of Fairness. The Rawlsian System	61
V Love, Friendship, and Trust	75
Moral Feelings	75
Love	77
Friendship	80
Trust	81
Love, Friendship, Trust, and the Ordering of Ends	84
VI The System of Ends: The Concept of the Life Plan	87
Knowledge as a Rational End	88
Art	90
Instinctual Ends	91
Survival	94
Relations and Priorities among Ends	95
The Concept of the Life Plan	97
 Part Two. Rational Ends and Social Structures
VII The Concept of Society	105
A Sketch of Parsons' System	106
Sociological and Normative Theory	109
Society as a System of Ends	112
VIII Law as a Means and as an End	116
The Intrinsic Value of Law	116
Rules of Law and Expressive Relations	123
Expressive Aspects of Criminal Procedure	125
The Legal Profession	132
Law and Morals	135
IX Privacy: A Rational Context	137
An Immodest Proposal: Electronic Monitoring	138
Privacy and Personal Relations	140

Contents

The Concrete Recognition of Privacy	144
The Concept of Privacy Applied to the Problem of Monitoring	147
The Role of Law	150

Part Three. Life and Death

X	Life Plans and Mortality	155
	Time and Identity	158
	Change and Uncertainty	162
	Death	166
	The Shape of the Life Plan	169
	The Concept of the Risk Budget	177
XI	Imposing Risks on Others	183
	The General Theorem	183
	The Concept of the Risk Pool	187
	Ordinary and Grave Risks	191
	Obligations	194
	Some Further Limitations on the Risk Pool: Kidney Banks and Life Rafts	200
XII	The Value of Life	207
	The Problem of Statistical Lives	207
	Some Entailments of Maximizing	210
	Some Invalid Arguments	214
	Fairness	218
	The Personalist Argument	222
	How One Dies	227
	The Primacy of the Concrete	233
	Notes	239
	Index	261

An Anatomy of Values

*“ . . . May God us keep
From Single vision and Newton's sleep!”
— William Blake, letter to Thomas Butts*