

Contents

CHAPTER I

	PAGE
INTRODUCTION	3
Novelist and Playwright — The Bartley Principle — Stage Action Explanatory — And Explained — Faces of the Characters — Battles — Expository Scenes — Words of the Witches — Shakespeare taking Pains — Good Exposition — And Bad.

CHAPTER II

TIME AND PLACE	24
Description for Scenery — Task of Good Reader — Storm Scenes in Lear — Indication of Place — Dover Cliff — Writing of Stage Letters — Condensation of Time — Double Time — Songs — Night Scenes — A Midsummer Night's Dream .

CHAPTER III

SOME CONVENTIONS	59
Changing Attitude toward Convention — Three Sorts of Soliloquy — Thinking aloud — Talking to Oneself — Talking to Audience — Asides — “To be, or not to be” — Expository Use of Soliloquies — Of Asides — “Drawing-room Asides” — Whispering — Stage Letters — Disguise.

CHAPTER IV

THE BEGINNING AND THE END	97
Rise of Curtain — Programmes — Identification of Characters — Comparison with Greek Tragedy — Keynote Scenes — Hamlet — Otello and Othello — Butlers and Parlor Maids — Openings of Comedies — Of Histories — Ending a Play — Recapitulation of Events — Friar Laurence — Stratagems to Avoid Recapitulation — Closing Speeches.

CHAPTER V

PREPARATION AND SURPRISE 133

Kinds of Surprise — Preparation for Scenes to come — Lady Macbeth's Sleep-walking — Shylock — Preparation for Unusual Characters — Malvolio's Letter — Surprise of Dramatis Personæ — Irony — Sometimes imperceptible to First Audience — Instances of Surprise in Shakespeare — Whispering again — Hermione lives.

CHAPTER VI

TESTIMONY 160

Responsiveness of Surrounding Characters — Ophelia's Mad Scene — Characters compared to Witnesses — Effect of Repeated Praise or Blame — Malvolio as his Fellows see him — Coriolanus — First and Second Gentlemen — Messengers — Antony and the Soothsayer — Supernatural Testimony — Margaret — Ghost in Hamlet.

CHAPTER VII

THE CHORUS CHARACTER AND OTHERS . . 194

Prologue and Epilogue — Induction — Sly — Chorus in Henry V — Gower — Chorus Character — Definition and Relationships — Patmore's Point of Rest — Tags and Sentences — Enobarbus — Other Chorus Characters — Friar Laurence — Spokesman for Audience — Three Varieties distinguished — Gratiano — Kent — Paulina.

CHAPTER VIII

THE VILLAIN AND THE HERO 252

Bradley's Distrust of Iago — The Villains accused of Excessive Candor — Shakespeare's Frenchmen — And Minor Murderers — Testimony of Villains about Themselves — And about the Good Characters — Testimony of the Good Characters — Julius Caesar — Hal's Soliloquy — "Now might I do it pat."

CHAPTER IX

ALLOWANCE FOR MOTIVE AND PREJUDICE . 298

The Death of Ophelia — Misstatements about Known Facts — About Known Characters — And Unknown Characters — Some Problems not Problems to Elizabethan Audience — Misstatements about Facts which lie outside our Knowledge — Hamlet's Delay.

SHAKESPEARE AND THE AUDIENCE

