About the author

Nicole Brown works at University College London and London South Bank University, and she is Director of Social Research & Practice and Education Ltd. Nicole’s creative and research work relate to physical and material representations of experiences, the generation of knowledge, and research methods and approaches to explore the same. Her publications include Lived Experiences of Ableism in Academia: Strategies for Inclusion in Higher Education, Ableism in Academia: Theorising Experiences of Disabilities and Chronic Illnesses in Higher Education, Embodied Inquiry: Research Methods, Making the Most of Your Research Journal, and Creativity in Education: International Perspectives. Nicole’s creative work has been published in academic journals and non-academic anthologies. Nicole shares her work at www.nicole-brown.co.uk, and she tweets as @ncjbrown and @AbleismAcademia.