Contents

List of Figures and Tables v
Notes on Contributors vi
Acknowledgements xii
Foreword by Ragnhild Sollund xiii

1 Why Gendering Green Criminology Matters 1
   Emma Milne, Pamela Davies, James Heydon, Kay Peggs and Tanya Wyatt

PART I Gendered Nature of Green Crimes and Environmental Harm

2 Eco-Feminism and the Gendering Green Criminology Project 17
   Pamela Davies

3 New Directions Please! Veganising Green Criminology 34
   Kay Peggs

4 Men and the Climate Crisis: Why Masculinities Matter for Green Criminology 53
   Stephen R. Burrell

5 Reconceptualising Gendered Dimensions of Illegal Wildlife Trade in Sub-Saharan Africa through Legal, Policy and Programmatic Means 72
   Helen U. Agu, Josiah C. Ogbuka and Meredith L. Gore

6 The Attitudes of People with Different Gender Identities and Different Perceptions of Gender Roles towards Nonhuman Animals and Their Welfare 97
   Aphra Hope-Forest, Ekaterina Gladkova and Tanya Wyatt

PART II Gendered Impacts and Victimisation

7 Queering Green Criminology: The Impacts of Zoonotic Diseases on the LGBTQ Community 121
   Laurence Pedroni and Benja Kromash
GENDERING GREEN CRIMINOLOGY

8 Women and the Structural Violence of ‘Fast-Fashion’ Global Production: Victimisation, Poorcide and Environmental Harms
Sandya Hewamanne and Nigel South

9 Green Victims of the International Waste Industry: An Analysis from a Gender Perspective
María-Ángeles Fuentes-Loureiro

10 The Green Road Project and Women’s Green Victimisation in Turkey
Halil Ibrahim Bahar

11 ‘Daughters of Dust’: An Eco-Feminist Analysis of Debt-for-Nature Swaps and Underage Marriage in Indonesia
Delon Alain Omrow

PART III Resistance
12 Women’s Experiences of Environmental Harm in Colombia: Learning from Black, Decolonial and Indigenous Communitarian Feminisms
Daniela Suárez Vargas and Rachel Killean

13 Vegan Feminism Then and Now: Women’s Resistance to Legalised Speciesism across Three Waves of Activism
Corey Lee Wrenn and Lynda M. Korimboccus

14 ‘To Preserve and Promote’: Gendering Harm in Green Cultural Criminology
Angeline Marie Letourneau

15 David and Goliath: Exploring the Male Burdens of Patriarchal Capitalism
Rob White

Index