Contents

List of Figures / vii

Acknowledgments / ix

Part 1: Heading to the Field

1 Dilemmas and Detours: Fieldwork with Ethnic Minorities in Upland Southwest China, Vietnam, and Laos / 1
   Sarah Turner

2 Comrades of Minority Policy in China, Vietnam, and Laos / 22
   Jean Michaud

Part 2: Red Stamps and Gold Stars

3 Blunders in the Field: An Ethnographic Situation Among the Drung People in Southwest China / 43
   Stéphane Gros

4 Gifts and Debts: The Morality of Fieldwork in the Wa Lands on the China-Burma Frontier / 61
   Magnus Fiskesjö

5 The Fun and Games of Taking Children to the Field in Guizhou, China / 80
   Candice Cornet

6 Socialist Rules and Postwar Politics: Reflections on Nationality and Fieldwork among the Yao in Northern Vietnam / 100
   Jennifer Sowerwine
7 Doing Fieldwork and Making Friends in Upland Northern Vietnam: Entanglements of the Professional, Personal, and Political / 121
Christine Bonnin

8 The Backstage of Ethnography as Ethnography of the State: Coping with Officials in the Lao People’s Democratic Republic / 143
Pierre Petit

9 Marginality in the Margins: Serendipity, Gatekeepers, and Gendered Positionalities in Fieldwork among the Khmu in Northern Laos / 165
Karen McAllister

10 Field Research on the Margins of China and Thailand / 185
Janet C. Sturgeon

11 Easier in Exile? Comparative Observations on Doing Research among Tibetans in Lhasa and Dharamsala / 201
Isabelle Henrion-Dourcy

12 The Silenced Research Assistant Speaks Her Mind / 220
Sarah Turner

Part 3: Post-Fieldwork

13 Between Engagement and Abuse: Reflections on the “Field” of Anthropology and the Power of Ethnography / 241
Oscar Salemink

14 Textual Desert – Emotional Oasis: An Unconventional Confessional Dialogue on Field Experience / 260
Stevan Harrell and Li Xingxing

15 Red Stamps and Gold Stars on the Margins / 279
Sarah Turner

Contributors / 286

Index / 289