ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

David Wilson Hibbert Tupper and Mary McAlpine Dobbs, Executors and Trustees of the estate of Ethel Wilson, for permission to print previously unpublished stories and essays by Ethel Wilson.

The University of British Columbia for copyright permission to publish stories, essays and letters by Ethel Wilson.

I wish to thank the following librarians and archivists who assisted me in collecting Ethel Wilson's letters: Anne Yandle, Laurenda Daniells and George Brandak of the Special Collections Division of the University of British Columbia Library; Apollonia Steele, University of Calgary Library; David Enns, Public Archives, Ottawa; Bruce Whiteman and Charlotte A. Stewart, McMaster University Library, and Richard E. Bennett, Department of Archives and Special Collections, the University of Manitoba Libraries. I am especially grateful to Rachel Grover of the Thomas Fisher Rare Book Library of the University of Toronto for her assistance and encouragement during the initial stages of this project.

I also wish to thank those friends and acquaintances of Ethel Wilson who directed me to letters and helped explain their sometimes allusive contents. These include Audrey Butler, William McConnell, Dorothy Livesey, Mrs. John Gray, Eleanor Sinclair, copy editor at Macmillan, Toronto, Earle Birney, and the late Margaret Laurence.

This volume owes much to the work of three scholars who have preceded me in documenting Ethel Wilson’s life and writings. I acknowledge here gratefully the genealogical research done by Barbara Wild, the biographical information collected by Irene Howard and the bibliography of Ethel Wilson's writings and writings about Ethel Wilson compiled by Bonnie Martyn McComb.

Finally, I would like to thank Professor Lorraine McMullen of the University of Ottawa who invited me to give a paper at the Ethel Wilson Symposium in 1981. The account I gave there of the Wilson Papers at U.B.C. Library was the genesis of this volume.
